

Pharmaceuticals & Medical Devices

The prescription for pharmaceutical and medical device clients

Nelson Mullins' attorneys have deep experience litigating issues related to pharmaceuticals and medical devices. We can help guide your institution whether you are

- a pharmaceutical company facing class action litigation
- a medical device manufacturer seeking to limit liability and avoid litigation through risk management
- a drug company needing representation for MDL or state-coordinated proceedings
- a mass tort defendant considering innovative strategies to minimize medical lien exposure, costs and liabilities

Representing pharmaceutical companies and medical device manufacturers

Our attorneys are experienced in all phases of complex pharmaceutical litigation, including individual cases, multiparty and multijurisdictional cases, class actions, MDL proceedings, and state-coordinated proceedings. Our team has national and lead counsel trial experience, and we have worked extensively with experts to simplify and present complex scientific issues to juries. We also work with our pharmaceutical and medical device clients to identify and manage risks in advance of litigation.

Experience, scientific knowledge, and a solid understanding of the pharmaceutical and medical device industry

Nelson Mullins has a wide breadth of experience in both the scientific and legal aspects of medical litigation. Our attorneys understand the science behind the products and the law behind the issues facing pharmaceutical and medical device companies. Our litigators are well versed in case management, settlement, and trial methods in this area. We have also worked with pharmaceutical and medical device companies to develop mitigation strategies for product liability and regulatory risks before a product launch or acquisition. Our team of attorneys, paralegals, e-discovery, and scientific professionals offer a high level of knowledge of this industry, and we apply that knowledge to helping our clients achieve their goals. Working in concert with firm healthcare attorneys, we present unique solutions to challenging circumstances, such as development and administration of nationwide mass tort medical lien resolution programs with government and private payers.
